ID CTM Price 1,550.— €excl. VAT Duration 2 days

Who should attend

People who want to bring more creativity into their everyday work.

Prerequisites

Willingness to learn about yourself and your own creative abilities.

Course Objectives

You learn what creativity actually is and how it works. On the one hand, free yourself from limiting thought patterns. And this doesn't just mean the limiting thought patterns you have about yourself and your creativity. And on the other hand, take into account the framework that is set for you by requirements for the creative result.

They recognize the structure of creativity and use it methodically to create something new and original. You recognize the structure of creativity and use it methodically to create something new and original. Some of these methods are actually new in the sense of originally adapted and are only taught in this training.

Learn how creative you can actually be. It's more than you suspect.
