This course is intended for Account Managers, Pre-Sales Engineers, OT Specialists, Practice Directors and Sales Executives.

Objectifs

The idea of “Connecting the Unconnected” generates a new world of possibilities. How do Channel Partners, Distributors, VARs and System Integrators capitalize on this $19 Trillion Opportunity?

Fast Lane’s IoT Practice Builder Workshop moves beyond the “possibilities” and provides concrete steps for taking an IoT solution practice to market with proven use cases and technologies.

Account Managers, Pre-Sales Engineers and Practice Managers will be empowered to take IoT solutions to market, initiate relevant conversations with customers about their problems and business outcome desires and provide concrete value across a wide range of specific IoT use cases.

In this course you will learn:

- Leverage the IoT ecosystem to build your own IoT Go-to-Market approach
- Articulate a comprehensive understanding of the Enterprise IoT stack
- Comprehend how various IoT vendor solutions and ecosystems fit into the Enterprise IoT stack
- Employ a business outcomes approach to customer engagement for IoT solutions
- Understand IoT ecosystem partnering strategies to quickly take IoT solutions to market
- Describe how present IoT solutions address use cases in core verticals of Retail, Smart Buildings, Remote Asset Management, Manufacturing, Transportation, and Utilities/Energy
- Engage customers by mapping their specific use cases to IoT ecosystem solutions
- Lead IoT use case discussions with customer buying
